

Two arrested after victims surround truck of alleged snowboard thieves

Thursday, 10 January 2008

Police have arrested two men on charges they stole more than a dozen snowboards and several pairs of skis.

Breckenridge Police were called to the Pine Ridge Condominiums around 10 a.m. Wednesday morning on a report of a disturbance between the victims of a theft and the possible suspects.

Several people had surrounded a white Toyota Tundra and would not let it leave.

Police found six men inside the pickup along with 13 snowboards and three pairs of skis in the truck bed. It was discovered the skiing merchandise didn't belong to any of the men.

Police arrested 22-year-old Aaron David Fritsch and 19-year-old Drew Allen Fritsch, both from Del Rio, Texas.

Both of the men were charged with theft and trespassing. They were both booked into the Summit County Jail on a $7,500 bond.
