

Double Agent: new headphones with SD card from SkullCandy

Thursday, 17 January 2008

Users load the SD card with music, plug it in the headphones and that's it, they are ready to go snowboarding.

The Double Agent will come with pre-loaded SD cards with songs from SkullCandy's music partners, that's even less work to do!

It will ship in March/April 2008, more photos in the full post. Specifications in the full post
