Free how-to videos show basics of snowboarding

Tuesday, 10 March 2009

The revenge of the nerds has been fulfilled now that University of Colorado graduate and mechanical engineer Rick Putnam has developed SnowProfessor.com along with his sister, Jill.

The website takes the sport out of stereotypical snowboard bro-ciety and presents it to the, ahem, "more mature" masses through a series of free how-to videos ranging from riding a chairlift to riding a rail.

Hi the link to http://snowprofessor.com to see more videos like their instruction to riding a chair lift:-
