Danny Davis Injured

Tuesday, 19 January 2010

Olympic snowboarding hopeful Danny Davis broke a bone in his lower back during an accident on Sunday, ending his season and sending another shockwave through the United States halfpipe community. Danny, 21, is expected to recover, but not in time for the Vancouver Olympics. Danny Davis isÂ friends with Kevin Pearce, who sustained a traumatic brain injury Dec. 31 while training in the halfpipe at Utahâ€™s Park City Mountain Resort
