

Foursquare Launches new website fpr 2011

Saturday, 24 July 2010

The new 2011 Foursquare website is here. Buil from scratch, the focus is on simplicity, ease of use, clean lines and functionality.

It's designed to bring out Foursquare's simple and honest attributes while showing you the best gear designed for snowboarding. A few things to check out are the Team profile pages to get the scoop on what the rider's are up to, the Heritage section gives you the lowdown on where Foursquare comes from and what the 2011 line is all about, and the Functional Tech section so you can check out whats good about the outerwear you're wearing on the hill. Outerwear and apparel coming in August - stay tuned.
